Community and Leaders to Stand in Solidarity
With Narciso Barranco and Immigrant Families

(Santa Ana, CA) — This Friday, community leaders, faith representatives, and elected officials will join together to stand in solidarity with Narciso Barranco, his family, and immigrant families across Orange County.

The press conference will highlight the community's collective call for humane treatment of immigrants and the urgent need for immigration bonds, which remain a lifeline for families impacted by detention. Narciso Barranco, who was recently in Adelanto Detention Center, will express gratitude to the community for its unwavering support, share messages from individuals currently in detention, and uplift the critical role of immigration bonds in reuniting families.
